

Place managers in an entertainment district

Patricia Ferguson

Research site

- Fortitude Valley, Brisbane
- 60,000 patrons every weekend (est.)
- 95 licensed premises per square kilometre
- 33 nightclubs/bars per square kilometre

hellfire club

UNIFORM PARTY

SAT
SEPTEMBER
27

9pm-3am

Consensual B&B play supervised by Masters & Mistresses

ADMISSION $25
MEMBERS $10

TABU LOUNGE BAR-NIGHTCLUB
243 BRUNSWICK ST FORTITUDE VALLEY 4006

(ARRIVE BEFORE 10 PM IN UNIFORM AND RECEIVE SPECIAL ADMISSION FOR $20.00)

- Officer ‘had capsicum spray wiped in her face and had a fingernail ripped off’ (June 16)
- Patron outside nightclub ‘with about 160 ecstasy tablets in his underwear’ (June 30)
- Patron hospitalised for ‘facial injuries after an alleged glassing’ attack (Sept 28)
- 27 people charged with trafficking, supplying and possessing illicit drugs to Valley (Oct 2)
- 1,000 people evacuated from nightclub after a patron spotted with a loaded handgun (Oct 27)

Precursors to intervention

- Liquor Enforcement And Proactive Strategies (LEAPS) Unit December 2004
- Death of Nigel Lee January 2005
- Death of Paul Markham February 2005
- Brisbane City Safety Action Plan ('17-point-plan') March 2005

The intervention: LEAPS

- Problem-oriented and partnership policing initiative
- Harm-reduction strategy using a mix of proactive and reactive tactics
- Goal is to make licensed premises safer for all patrons and staff
- Operate in an intelligence-led framework
 - Number and type of problems
 - Direct resources to problem venues
- Communicate with other agencies
 - Security industry
 - Outreach workers
 - Health, local council, fire and rescue, immigration, WHS

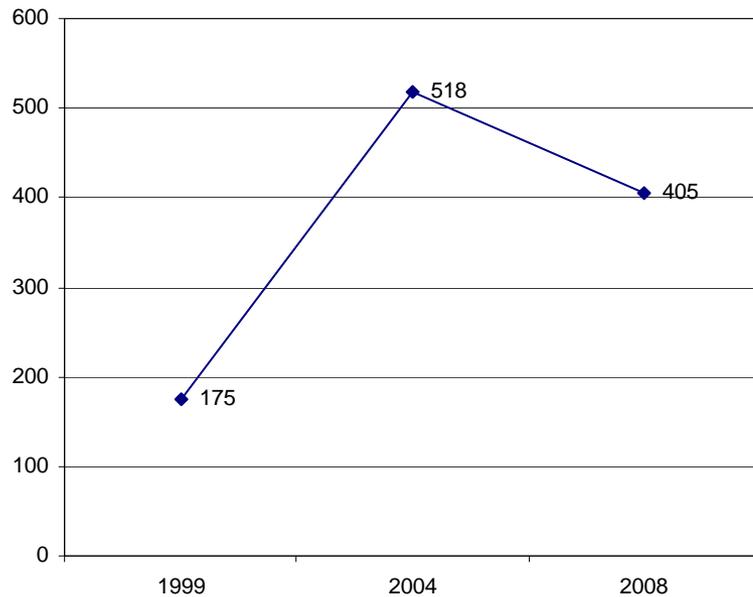

LEAPS activities

- Proactive
 - Free safety audits of licensed premises
 - Liaison (security, licensees/nominees)
 - Chair/attend community meetings
- Reactive
 - Low impact enforcement
 - Cite venues for breaches of Liquor Act 1992
 - Distribute warning letters
 - Assist in liquor tribunal proceedings

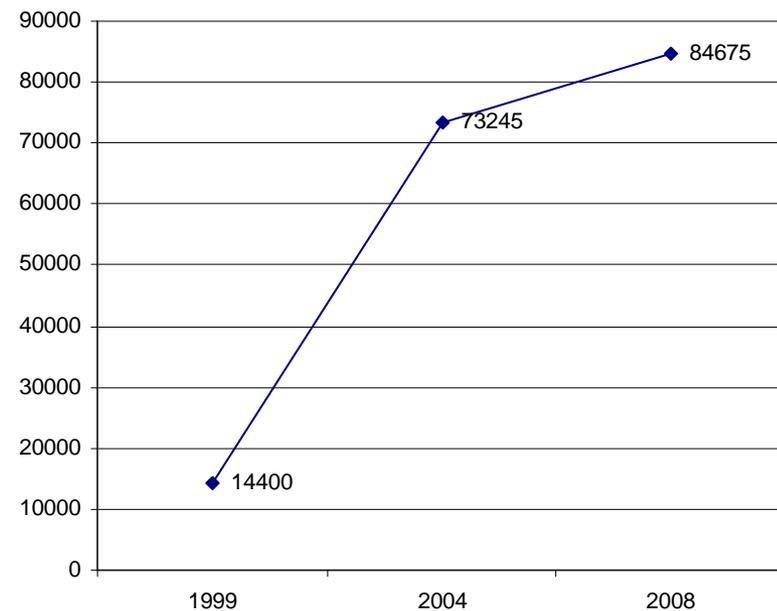

Liquor Licensing breaches

Number of Liquor Incident Notices

Value of fines

Research design

- Place managers from all nightclubs, bars, taverns, lounge bars, cocktail bars, adult entertainment premises
- Pre-post correlational research design
- Pre-intervention: November 2004 ($N=26$)
- Post-intervention: May 2007 ($N=31$)

The role of place managers

Perceptions of drug problems

- Drug dealing decreased
 - 'Big problem' responses dropped from 58% to 39%
 - 'No problem' responses increased from nil to 7%
- Drug use decreased
 - 'Big problem' responses dropped from 39% to 32%
 - 'No problem' responses increased from 4% to 13%
- Chroming decreased
 - 'Big problem' responses dropped from 31% to 23%

Perceptions of disorder

- Increase in:
 - Urinating/vomiting
 - 'Hooning'
- Decrease in:
 - Excessive noise
 - Prostitution
 - Homelessness
- Stable:
 - Vandalism

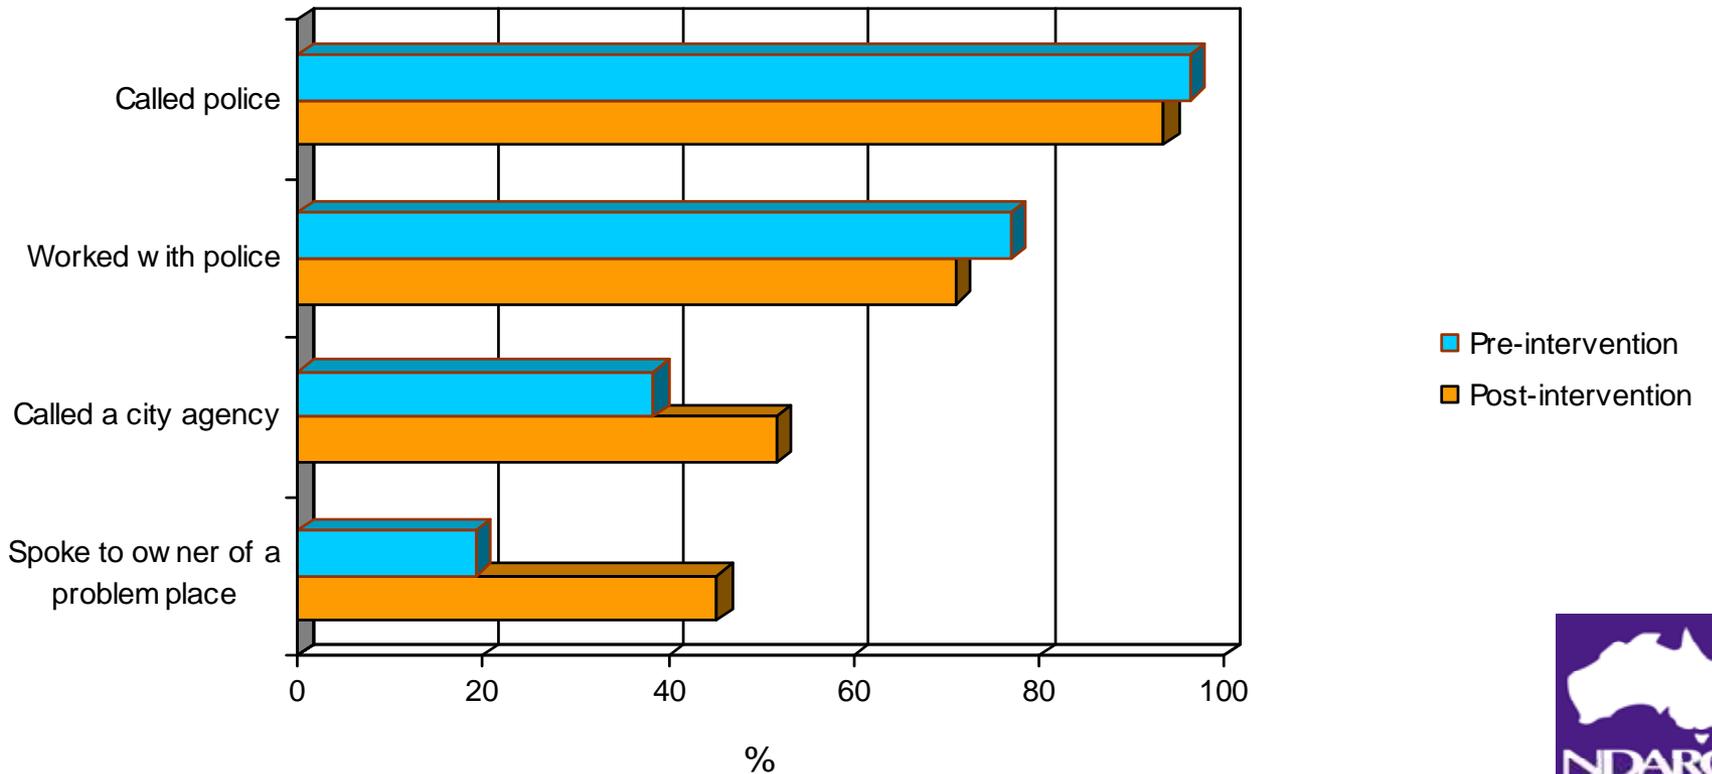

Perceptions of violence

- Increase in:
 - Robberies/muggings (from 'rarely' to 'sometimes' as modal category)
 - Fights with weapons (from nil in 'often' category to 6.5 per cent)
 - Sexual assaults (from 16% in 'sometimes' category to 26%; from nil in 'often' category to 10%)
- Decrease in:
 - Violent arguments (from 'often' to 'sometimes' as modal category)

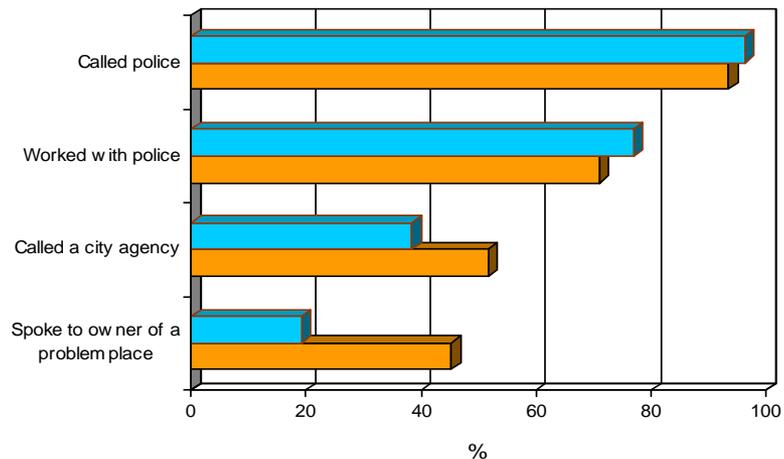

Positive action

Place managers' responses to community problems before and after LEAPS intervention

Self-reported positive action

- “...self-regulation and related notions of community cohesiveness and local social ties have been conceptualized and found to be important insulators against crime problems at the neighbourhood and street-block level” (Mazerolle, Kadleck & Roehl, 1998, p.374).
- “...collective efficacy among neighbours, defined as social cohesion among neighbors combined with their willingness to intervene on behalf of the common good, is linked to reduced violence” (Sampson, Raudenbush & Earls, 1997, p.916)

Conclusions

- License type helps understand perceptions
 - Situational environment
 - Different personality traits (e.g. Quigley, Leonard & Collins, 2003)
- Perceptions of drug problems decreased
- Targets drift away from traditional law enforcement reactions to problems

Papers in development

Manning, M., Ferguson, P., Mazerolle, P., & Mazerolle, L. 'Place managers in an entertainment district: Perceptions of disorder and engagement in positive action'.

Ferguson, P., Manning, M., Jackson, S., Mazerolle, P., & Mazerolle, L. 'Conflicting police strategies in an entertainment district: Implications for procedural justice'.